AGED STATESMAN OF FRANCE HERE ON PEACE VISIT

Clemenceau Welcomed On Arrival in New York
By Notables

SPEAKS FOR FRANCE

Telegram from Woodrow Wilson Welcomes Aged
Premier to U. S.

(By the Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Nov. 18. — Georges Clemenceau, war time premier of France, came to America today on a mission of peace.
The fiery "old tiger" earnestly voiced the purpose of his tour in a brief response at the city hall to an address of welcome by acting Mayor Hubert.
"In the world at this time," he declared, "is a crisis which has not been settled. How it will end nobody knows. If you take the wrong side — well the war counts for nothing and we may have to go to war again. If it turns out right, and the right things are done at the right time, then it will be a great step for civilization of mankind."
Clemenceau's idea of the "right thing" is the message he will give to America in a series of addresses here and in Boston, Chicago, St. Louis, Washington and Philadelphia.
Although he came as a private citizen, the former French statesman was accorded the honor of a diplomat. Red tape was cut by Washington to facilitate his landing. A personal representative of President Harding — assistant Secretary of State Bliss — went down the bay to welcome him and invite him to the white house. Jules J. Jusserand, the French ambassador to the United States, was on hand to put the stamp of his government's approval of the visit.

RELIEF FROM FLOOD DANGERS PROMISED

(By the Associated Press)
HIGMAN, Ky., Nov. 18. — Relief for Higman, threatened with obliteration by encroaching waters of the Mississippi river, since construction of government levees has diverted the full current of the stream against the town's water front, was anticipated by residents following the visit of the Mississippi river commission today.
Senator O. A. Stanley, of Kentucky, appealed to the commission in behalf of Higman, and local persons put the case before the federal body. The group visited the threatened area and a survey of the situation was made.
Senator Stanley pointed out the critical situation at Higman and declared that the menace from flooding is the result of government construction on the Missouri side of the river. He urged immediate action before the next flood season, assuring the commission that congressional appropriation would be provided in time to finish the work. The commission which came from St. Louis left today for Memphis.

Ford Applies for Profit Sharing in Railroad Dealings

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 18. — Henry Ford applied to the interstate commerce commission today for authority to put into effect on his railroad, the Detroit, Toledo and Iron-ore, a system of profit sharing somewhat similar to that in effect in his manufacturing plants.
The commission was asked to approve an issue of $1,000,000 in investment certificates which will be sold to employers for cash in amounts of $100, $500 and $1,000. These certificates will bear no fixed rates of interest but the money received from their sale will be invested in the railroad itself or in other enterprises, as the management may decide, and at the end of each year a dividend running up to a limit of 25 per cent of the road's earnings will be distributed to the employees holding investment certificates.
A searchlight of 1,280,000,000 candlepower is now being produced.

Ada Fans all Set for Trial of Robertson

Further development in the case of J. B. A. Robertson, charged with accepting a bribe in connection with the failure of the Bank of Commerce, filed here Friday morning on change of revenue from the Oklahoma county court to Pontotoc county, were at a standstill as far as could be learned at the local court clerk's office.
No notification has been received from the state supreme court as to when the case will be tried or who will sit in the hearing, although press reports announce that the case will be tried here on November 24 before Judge Thomas A. Edwards, of Cordell.
General Charles McPherson, who filed papers in the case here Friday morning, left without comment on the case Friday afternoon.
Interest in the case has already reached a zero pitch here. Court fans are already bidding for choice seats in the district court room.

EUROPEAN PEACE UP AT LAUSANNE

United States Interested
In near East Problems
For Conference

(By the Associated Press)
LAUSANNE, Nov. 18. — Another attempt to stabilize the peace of Europe will be under taken here next Monday with the inauguration of the near east conference attended by practically all powers of west and southeastern Europe.
Primarily summoned to establish peace between victorious Turkey and defeated Greece, the conference possesses vast importance to the United States and to all Europe.
It must settle the various problems that have grown out of the Turks return to the continent from which they were expelled after the great war, as well as the all dominant question of the freedom of the Dardanelles, in which America has a natural interest.
The conference must lay down Turkey's new front, and take up the delicate question of Turkey's capitulations or concessions whereby foreigners in Turkey, like those living in China, have been exempt from Turkish laws and free from tax. Turkey demands freedom from these restrictions and clamors for national administrative liberty.
With departing from her traditional European politics the United States coming developments of the conference by designating three observers, Richard Washburn Child, ambassador to Italy, Joseph C. Grew, minister to Switzerland, and Rear Admiral Mark L. Bristol, official American Representative at Constantinople.
Recent events in London, Paris, Constantinople and Athens have demonstrated the delicate nature of the relations between England and France concerning this near-eastern tangle with statesmen of each of these countries striving for "unity and a front" which will safeguard their separate national aspirations as regards to commerce and their various "special positions."
The prediction is freely made here have a weighty bearing upon the future amity and harmonious co-operation between England and France in European affairs.

DODD SENTENCED FOR FIVE YEARS FOR MANSLAUGHTER

EUFAULA, Nov. 18. — Walter Dodd, of Ada, was found guilty of second degree manslaughter and was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary by a jury in the district court today. He was charged with shooting John Sellers, a prominent local citizen, to death in a quarrel last January. He claimed self defence.

Bandits Stage Hold-up

Genoa, Colo., Nov. 18. — Six bandits held the Genoa Banking Company's bank late this afternoon and escaped with several thousand dollars after starting a fire to draw the attention of the citizens to another section of the village and shooting a citizen so badly that he will probably die.

MEXICO RESENTS SUGGESTIONS OF UNITED STATES

Obregon Denounces Offer
Interest in Proposed Petroleum Laws

PAPERS TAKE STAND

Latin American Countries Informed of Action of Mexican Government

(By the Associated Press)
MEXICO CITY, Nov. 18. — All southern and central American republics were being informed today that Mexico resented any censorship of its legislation by the United States or other powers and that President Obregon's statement to that effect had secured for him a vote of confidence in the chamber of deputies.
This action grew out of a heated debate in the chamber last night following the disclosure of a series of communications which are said to have recently passed between Foreign Secretary Pania and George T. Summerlin, the American charge de affaires. In these communications Mr. Summerlin speaks for the American state department, and is alleged to have offered suggestions concerning the prospective petroleum law which is to be considered by congress. The Mexican government, is represented as holding the opinion that the suggestions were intrusive.
Seldom has there been such an outburst of oratory and vindictive speeches against the United States as was witnessed in the chamber last evening when the communications were read. These letters some of which were merely personal notes between Pania and Mr. Summerlin were interpreted as an encroachment upon the national sovereignty and the lower house unanimously approved President Obregon's attitude and voted to inform all Latin American countries of "the Yankee's attempt at imperialism."
Newspapers Recent Action
The newspapers treated the incident as the most sensational news in several months.
"A grave international incident is arising," says El Democrita. "President Obregon repulses all invasions of national sovereignty," says El Universal, while Excelsior declares that Mexico will not permit censorship of its laws by any foreign government.
Mr. Summerlin declined to make a statement on any phase of the incident.
In some quarters the publication of the communication is considered a clever political move to unite all factions in congress at a moment when the provision of Article 27 of the Mexican constitution which deals with the appropriation of private property are about to be discussed.
In the same quarters it was said that the test of the communication did not reveal any intention on the part of the United States government to dictate Mexican legislative matters but were rather intended to constitute helpful suggestions relative to matters of mutual interest to both countries.
It has been known for some time that various Mexican officials had expressed the wish that the United States would indicate its desires relative to the article so that these might be considered.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18. — Charge that the United States has interfered unduly in the drafting of internal legislation in Mexico which culminated in an outburst of Anti-American sentiment in Mexican chamber of deputies were declared by the state department tonight to be wholly unsubstantiated by the facts.
In a formal statement given by the department to the associated press it was said that the views on the proposed oil legislation communicated by the American Charge Summerlin to Mexico City officials had been expressed only after the Washington government had been given to understand such communication would be welcomed.

WRIGHT FUNERAL SERVICES TO BE HELD AT MEMPHIS

(By the Associated Press)
MEMPHIS, Nov. 18. — Funeral services for General Luke E. Wright, secretary of war in the cabinet of President Roosevelt, governor-general of the Philippines for several years, and at one time United States ambassador to Japan who died at his home here last night will be held Sunday at the St. Peters Roman Catholic Church.

Turk Sultan Leaves Wives In Hysterics

(By the Associated Press)
CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 18. — The Sultan's wives and ladies of the harem are overwhelmed with grief and dismay over the flight of the sultan. They did not know he was going.
The sultan's youngest wife, whom he married only nine weeks ago and who is the 22 old daughter of one of his gardeners, became hysterical when the fact of the sultan's flight was confirmed, and the seven faithful eunuchs who had acted as body guard to the moslem ruler for the last five years gave themselves up to despair, fearing the sultan had been kidnapped by the kemalists. The other eunuchs and ladies of the palace, number 300, went bitterly and soon the whole place was in a state of commotion.
The sultan's departure was not known to his household until nine o'clock yesterday morning when his aides entered his sleeping chamber. When they gave out that the sultan was missing the palace was searched from top to bottom for the monarch.

MUSSOLINI GETS SENATE CONTROL

Factist Government is Upheld in Stormy Session of Chamber.

(By the Associated Press)
Rome, Nov. 18. — Benito Mussolini starts his career as Italy's premier backed by a strong vote of confidence from parliament. The fascist government was upheld 406 to 111 after a stormy session of the Chamber yesterday in which the socialist and other minority groups broke their sullen silence and hurled defiance and invectives at the government benches, only to be dismissed by Mussolini with contemptuous remarks and waves of the hand. He had just demanded obedience from the deputies, and the majority bowed to the inevitable.
In a report to the majority in which he approved the chamber for its support, he replied curtly: "I treated the chamber the way it deserved to be treated."
Despite the vote of confidence many deputies went home feeling none too sure that the premier would not dissolve the chamber. Socialists who voted against the government were heard to ask: "How long is he going to stand for the attacks of those members who would have had him shot a month ago?"
Others however felt that by holding the present chamber in the hollow of his hand and waving the weapon of "dissolution" over its head, Mussolini can rule much more easily than with parliamentary practically solid with a fascist majority.
It is pointed out that the authority to dissolve parliament granted Mussolini by the King applies to the present body alone, and that he would probably not receive similar power with a new chamber as the king, like his predecessors, is jealous of this royal prerogative, which is only granted as a last recourse.
In any case, it is regarded as certain that Mussolini will make no decision until after attempting to force from this chamber an amendment modifying Italy's electoral law, as well as authority to enforce his program of bureaucratic reform and financial retrenchment.
Tonight Mussolini starts for Switzerland for a preliminary conference with the French premier and British foreign secretary regarding the attitude to be adopted by the allies at the forthcoming Lausanne peace conference. On his way the premier will stop at San Rossore to confer with King Victor Emanuel.

Neff Revokes Proclamation

(By the Associated Press)
AUSTIN, Tex., Nov. 18. — Governor Neff issued an order revoking his proclamation on Wednesday lifting the open law at Sherman and Childers. Opening of the law was to have been lifted at these two places as well as five other Texas railroad centers today.

Church Gossip Adds Clue to Murder Probe

(By the Associated Press)
NEW BRUNSWICK, Nov. 18. — Evidence that the relations of the Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Rhinehardt Mills were discussed by Mrs. Hall and members of the minister's congregation for some time before the slaying of the couple, has been given to the authorities. It was stated today, by a member of the church of St. John the Evangelist of which Rev. Hall was the rector.
The investigators believe that this testimony will strengthen the case they intend to present to the grand jury next week. The church member has stated to the authorities that the attentions paid by Mr. Hall to Mrs. Mills were noted on one occasion at least by Mrs. Hall.
In a recent interview Mrs. Hall declared that she had not noted anything in the friendship of her husband and Mrs. Mills that alarmed her.

HARBORD TO QUIT U. S. ARMY STAFF

Becomes President Radio Corporation; Hines to Take Appointment

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 18. — Retirement from the army of Major General James G. Harbord, deputy chief of staff and one outstanding American military leaders in the world war, to accept the presidency of the Radio Corporation of America, was announced today by Secretary Weeks. He will be succeeded in Washington by Major General John L. Hines, now commanding the eighth corps area.
General Harbord's retirement becomes effective December 29, and he will take up his new duties January 1. He had been selected to succeed General Pershing as chief of state on the latter's retirement and Secretary Weeks said in his formal announcement that the loss to the active forces of the army through General Harbord's separation from the service cannot be "adequately expressed."
"We have not in our military service or in our government service in any capacity a man of higher quality or one who has inspired in others a greater degree of confidence," said the war secretary. "The business he will enter is in its infancy and it will offer a full scope for his abilities. That he will prove himself a great leader in industrial and commercial affairs seems as certain to me as his great leadership in military activities. I have an acute sense of personal loss on his going. His ability and loyalty have been of vital importance to me in administering the affairs of the war department."
In his letter to Secretary Weeks applying for retirement General Harbord pointed out that he had been on active service for 33 years, "having enlisted on January 10, 1889, with continued service since enlistment, over 16 years of such service being abroad."
General Harbord has had offers of the radio corporation under consideration for almost a year. His acceptance was opposed by Secretary Weeks and other officials including General Pershing.

Family is Found Murdered; Probe
Started in Case

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Nov. 18. — Pesse Rector, aged farmer, his son York, and the latter's wife, were found murdered at their mountain home near Pikeville early this morning.
Sheriff A. T. Gofforth and two deputies spent the day searching about the vicinity of the Rectors' home which is near Melville, a village, but discovered nothing upon which to base a conclusion as to the cause for the triple murder.
The three bodies were in a badly mutilated condition, having been made by loads from a shot gun, evidently fired at close range.
Communication with the remote section where the killings occurred is difficult and little could be learned of the family history of the Rectors but it has been suggested that the tragedy is the outcome of a feud.

LaFOLLETTE LEADER

Formation of Progressive Bloc Aimed Without Party Interest

(By the Associated Press)

Formation of not only a progressive bloc in the senate and house but also a national council for progressives without regard to party was the apparent object of the movement. There was no mention of the third political party and before the call went out Senator LaFollette declared that the new party must be a matter of evolution and could not be established through meetings of any group of men and adoption of resolutions.
Call for Meeting Issued
The call proposed a meeting of progressive members of congress December 1 and the other of progressive leaders generally on December 2. Invitations to the latter meeting were sent in its was announced to a "representative group of influential progressive men and women throughout the country" whose names were not divulged.

GERMANS OBJECT TO CUNO'S SELECTIONS

BERLIN, Nov. 18. — The efforts of Wilhelm Cuno to form a cabinet have temporarily floundered on attempts by the leaders of the middle parties and united socialists to dictate the cabinet appointments. Herr Cuno this afternoon wrote to President Ebert asking that he be relieved of the task and incidentally rebuked the party leaders for crossing his plans after having previously assured him of their good will.
Herr Cuno demanded that he be not interfered with in his selection of a cabinet assignment and on the strength of this requirement, the president renewed his mandate to the chancellor designate who now undertakes to make a slate without further inter-party parleying. He will risk acceptance or rejection of such a cabinet by the Reichstag to which he will submit his list in open session next week.

TAKE SALTS TO FLUSH KIDNEYS

Eat less meat if you feel Back-achy or have Bladder trouble

Too much meat may form uric acid, which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Big meat eaters can flush the kidneys occasionally to relieve them like they relieve the bowels, removing all the uric acids, waste and poison, else they may feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, the stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad they have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging one to get up two or three times during the night.

To help neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's uric waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salt is made from the acids of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to help clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to help prevent serious kidney and bladder disorders. erty benefited, in accordance with the provisions of the State Laws of Oklahoma governing same.

The City reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

Dated this 17th day of October, 1922.

appreciation for the vote received here in the primary.

Ed Trapp, nominee to succeed himself as Lieutenant Governor, took only enough time to thank his friends for past support.

The Walton party arrived in Ada from Tishomingo about seven o'clock. After taking dinner with a few of the Ada men mingled with the party, a short reception was held in the lobby. The speaking began shortly after seven o'clock, as the crowd began assembling shortly after six.

To the Votes of the First Commissioner's District

I feel that I ought to give you some idea of the manner in which I handled the funds of the office since I have been your county commissioner, and particularly the funds used in road work.

I have had less money with which to do road work than any other county commissioner since 1916. We also have refused to let a funding bond be put through. But in spite of these things, I believe every one in my district realizes that I have built more roads and constructed more culverts and bridges than any former commissioner in the same length of time. I have made your money go further than that others in road work, and have insisted on every dollar spent in getting a dollar in return. I challenge any man to show where we commissioners, and more particularly anything relating to my district, have permitted any waste to the county, either intentionally or unintentionally.

I have served you a part of one term, sixteen months. If I have made good, give me a chance to continue the work started. Don't let your prejudices or false community pride permit you to vote wrong.

I urge you to go to the polls next Tuesday and approve the record I have made by voting for me.

PASSING OF LLOYD GEORGE

The last of the "Big Four" is doomed to a back seat in world affairs for the time being, at least.

Lloyd George, once the master of English affairs and virtually dictator of all England, met instantaneous and final reversals in the recent elections.

"The Little Welshman" in his own words summed up his fate in English affairs when he declared in a recent political address "that the ills of England were soothed and the doctor was no longer needed."

The World war, which overnight brought leaders to assume temporary control, took away the necessity of their power at its close.

England needed a leader, one whose personality would rise above the masses and stiltify faith in their cause. Lloyd George a powerful orator, a statesman of unquestioned worth fitted into his niche and grasped his opportunity while it presented itself.

He carried this decisiveness in his policies that followed in the wake of the World war.

His visions were too radical for studious England after she had time to recuperate from the chaos of war and consequently the results led to his defeat at the hands of one whose policies tend more to conservative-ness.

Modern democracy resents the attempt of any man who would live above his people.

THE TIGER IS HERE

Clemenceau, the "tiger" of France, is now on a visit to this country endeavoring to bring about more cordial relations between the two nations. The "Tiger" is one of the most interesting figures of the century. He has had a stormy life and more than once appeared to be headed for oblivion, when he defied public opinion, but he has managed to come out on top of every scrap he has taken part in. He is a man without fear and his plain speaking and habit of calling a spade a spade has done much to keep things in his vicinity in a turmoil.

His supreme test came during the world war. France tried several leaders but none filled the bill until Clemenceau was called to the head of affairs, as he had been on other occasions when France faced a crisis. Although he was one of the foremost figures of the day, he was not elected president of France after the war. He did not deign to fight for this honor, but would have appreciated it as a fitting climax to his tempestuous career. However, he was too big a man to express any bitterness towards the men in parliament who chose another and now he seeks to do his country one more service by bringing about a better understanding with the United States.

Those who understand the psychology of athletics say that the rooting of the students of a college or school for their team does help them win. It gives them faith in each other and puts a kind of do or die determination into them. Likewise, is the rooting spirit in a community a tremendous factor in its advance. In a city where there is a loyal and confident and hopeful feeling, people are incited and encouraged to start progressive enterprises. They have faith that they can get support. If such a spirit can prevail in Enid the business men will feel that their place is receptive to new ideas, that the people are wide awake enough to take advantage of specially favorable opportunities to buy goods, that trade can be drawn from longer distances. New undertakings are courageously begun in such places and the rooting spirit carries the town on to a higher level of prosperity.—Enid Events.

HOW IT HAPPENED

Here is how the Chickasha Star, edited by J. W. Kayser, Republican member of the state board of affairs, explains the result of the election:

The Republican legislature of two years ago did not help any in staying off the Democratic landslide of Tuesday. When the Republicans were placed in charge of the legislature for the first time they frittered away their time in useless agitation and then spent more money than any legislature had ever spent before, if the Republicans had enacted some real constructive legislation when they were placed in power Walton's majority might not have been so large on Tuesday.

The advocates of high tariff make the plea that it means better wages for the laboring class. The new tariff raised the duty on pottery from 33 1-3 to 60 per cent. No comes the announcement that the protected employers have cut the wages of their employees while announcing an advance in the prices of their product. Some of the workers are already on a strike and others will be out shortly.

PHRENOLOGICAL STUDY OF THE FOOTBALL FAN

The Forum of the Press

Long evenings of late fall and winter have never been popular. Housewives dislike them because they interfere with sewing and other tasks for which daylight is preferable. The young crowd are sorry to see the sun quit early and darken the football field. The menfolk regret to see their automobile runs out short, and those who manage business plants feel that work is never so efficiently done by artificial light. Families do not gather under the evening lamp at this season as they did in former times. For many of the modern folks the long evenings are simply the time when the social season reaches its height, and there is something doing every night. They get what they are looking for. Others find that the long evenings furnish new opportunities for study and self-improvement. Each winter brings them some increase of knowledge or broader intelligence in their own occupation. Time is a form of capital and it should be used thoughtfully. (Enid Events)

Work of Veterans Bureau (Hugo News)

There are being trained in the fourth district of the United States Veterans Bureau, comprising the states of Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, and District of Columbia, more than 5,000 disabled ex-soldiers. The training includes law, medicine, agriculture, engineering, and various mechanical trades, and there are nearly 100 taking courses from private tutors.

Of 100 men trained by the bureau in this district, selected at random from those who graduated, the average pre-war wage was $110 a month, while the average wage since training has been $175.

This is fine practical work and worthy of the highest commendation. Undoubtedly there have been many hardships suffered by ex-service men due to too much red tape, bureaucracy, and the curse of this, our government, too many subdivisions of authority, but in spite of these things we do, now and then, succeed in accomplishing something for those to whom we owe so much. There is no joy in life compared to that of attaining success; there is no proof of success like increasing earning power. If the Veterans Bureau can raise the earning power of its students, it raises the level of human happiness, and of all young Americans, our sick, injured and maimed world war veterans most deserve happiness.

STRONG LOVE TYPES IN "BLOOD AND SAND"

Lila Lee and Nita Naldi Have Colorful Roles

Two vastly different types of women portray two different types of affection in "Blood and Sand," Rodolph Valentino's initial Paramount star picture. Lila Lee, youthful and ingenuous, evinces a love sweet and tender, while Nita Naldi, colorful and exotic, sweeps everything away with a volcanic, tempestuous rush of romance.

The love of Rodolph Valentino for these women provides a series of interesting sequences in the Vicente Blasco Ibanez's story of Spanish life which June Mathis has especially adapted for the screen. As Mr. Valentino has an international reputation as a perfect love-maker, the romantic episodes bid fair to be even more popular than the sensational, colorful periods laid before wild bulls in

CHICAGO FIRE DEPARTMENT FIGHTS STOCK YARDS FLAMES

(By the Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Nov. 18. Forty-one engine companies today fought a fire in the heart of the stock yards, where the front part of a four story building occupied by the canning and hog killing departments of Armour and company was gutted by flames. Armour officials said that they believed about 600 hogs had perished. Fire department officials said they believed the fire was caused by spontaneous combustion.

ADA MAY ESCAPE BIG FIRE LOSS

Local Department Sets a State Record for Minimum Loss.

Is Ada to escape the year 1922

without a disastrous fire loss?

That is the question that is receiving some attention at the fire department. Facts of past years lend interest to it.

In nearly every instance for the past few years the disastrous fires have nearly always occurred the latter part of November or in December. Especially was this the case

last year when a cotton warehouse fire and a $250,000 loss to a local music store occurred.

So far this season no big fire has occurred. Many calls have been turned in and about $5,000 damage been done, but as compared with losses of former years, this is exceedingly small. Fire Chief Somer Jones points out.

If Ada is to have a big fire loss for 1922 the fires are yet to occur, his records show. He hopes, however, that with the improved equipment and co-operation of citizens to prevent fires, that his department will not be called on to fight any big fires.

The smallest loss in the history of any city in the state with a population over 8,000, so far as can be learned here, was established by Ada in 1918. The fire loss for the city in that year was only $800.

"We had so little to do that we almost got out of practice," Mr.

Jones said.

In 1911 the record for the number of days between fire calls was established. At this time 110 days elapsed before a call was turned in.

The record for a period between fires since the war was established this past summer, when 65 days elapsed before a fire call was turned in.

During his service as fire chief,

Mr. Jones has conducted several campaigns of "fire prevention," setting forth methods that could be applied locally. He pointed to this as one of the factors in reducing fire loss for the city.

Red Cross Secretary in Appeal For Funds Heads Work of Chapter Locally

Mrs. Orville Sneed, secretary of the local chapter of the Red Cross and United Charities association, has released statistics, figures and financial report concerning the operations of her office during the past year, which, she says, tells more than anything else of the great need of financial assistance if the office is to be kept open and functioning.

She said that financial assistance had been rendered this year to 153 families and to 132 transient cases, and that second hand clothing had been given to hundreds of persons who did not receive other aid from the office. In many instances families depending on the Red Cross almost entirely for support were placed with relatives. These families were expensive, she said, and in cases where relatives could not be secured to care for them, they were sent to the Charles Page Home at Sand Springs, given employment or otherwise given adequate protection in the matter of clothing, shelter and food.

She said that the above figures were only a part of the work her office was called on to do. She maintains an employment bureau and has placed hundreds of persons in good jobs during the past year. In most of such cases the jobs were badly needed, she pointed out, and it probably would have been impossible for the parties to receive work had they not obtained it in this manner.

She points out that among the persons visiting her office are many helpless, maimed and crippled persons who have no assistance. Some are unable to work and friendless. Many pitiful cases were named by the Red Cross secretary. She said that all the poverty of the county was continually held before her and that she received calls which were not heeded because of too much work, lack of funds or other necessary obstacles.

On the other hand, she said that at present she is able to find work for women who desire housework. She has several such places open to women who have no children, she said, and those who are interested should apply at her office. With the opening of school, the calls on her office increases and she said that there were many families in the city without proper clothing, school supplies and other necessities of life.

In speaking of the fact that the Red Cross and United Charities have the same secretary and do business for the same office, Mrs. Sneed said that it reduced the expense considerably, make co-operation between the two organizations better and otherwise assisted in carrying on the work of charity in the county.

She pointed out that citizens who are inclined to help charitable institutions should beware of impostors. She mentioned two cases for homes recently where investigation showed that funds were being collected for homes which did not exist. The Red Cross will endorse any deserving institution which desires to solicit funds here, Mrs. Sneed said, and unless such endorsement is given, residents should refrain from donating to the solicitor.

Roff Affords Many Added Features of Prosperity For Living Conditions

When the Frisco railroad was built through this part of Oklahoma in 1900 it was decided to locate a town on the site of the Roff ranch in what is now the southwestern part of Pontotoc county. There was good reason for selecting this as a townsite, for it was in the midst of a most excellent prairie farming section which would give good support to a town, and at that time ranching was an important industry. From that beginning a town of some 1,500 inhabitants grew.

The business section of the town is for the most part two story brick buildings which are occupied by various lines and ordinarily do a thriving business. An oil mill was built there in the early days of the place and there are a number of gins and other enterprises. This year the cotton receipts have been around 1,700 bales and considerable corn and other crops were raised and did their part towards restoring the country to its prosperous condition prior to the coming of the boll weevil in 1921. One of the most important industries of the town is the glass sand pit. Some years ago E. C. Larsh put this into operation and with the growth of the glass business in Oklahoma and Texas, he has built up a good business.

The quantity is practically unlimited and the immense pit already excavated by means of the hydraulic system is not a beginning to what there is yet to be mined. A considerable amount of machinery is necessary to handle the output. Roff has always taken a pride in its schools. It was one of the first towns in this part of the state to establish a high school and a year ago or two the increase in the scholastic population made it past year and has done considerable towards pulling the people through the crisis. However, farming is the chief dependence of that section and in every direction one finds well built farm houses and barns. It is stated that most of the land in that part of the county is cultivated by the owners.

The Eagle is the newspaper of the town and it is among the oldest in this part of the state.

When the national guard of Oklahoma was reorganized following the close of the war, an artillery company was organized at Roff. It is provided with a commodious building as an armory and the boys are well up on their duties.

Roff may never reach the proportions of a city, but with the good farming land which surrounds it, it will always be as prosperous as any other place in this part of Oklahoma and a very desirable town in which to live. Should oil be found in paying quantities it will mean a much greater wave of prosperity, and an ample supply of gas will make it possible to locate a glass factory at the spot where the raw material is found and give the town a good pay roll.

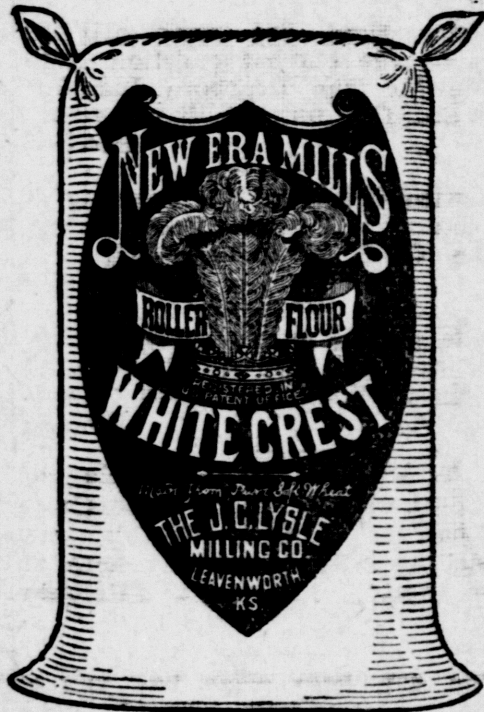

One profession into which women appear to be swarming is that of statisticians. Banks and investment houses especially employ many statistical clerks as well as research workers and graphists.

WILL ANSWER ANY WOMAN WHO WRITES

Woman Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Makes This Offer

Cumberland, Md.—"My mother gave me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound when I was between thirteen and fourteen years old and was going to school, because I suffered with pains and could not rest. I did not have any more trouble after that until I was married, then I always was troubled in my back while carrying a child and could not do my work until I took the Vegetable Compound. I am strong, do all my washing and ironing and work for seven children and feel fine. I always have an easy time at childbirth and what it did for me it will do for other women. I am willing to answer any woman if she will write asking what it did for me."

—Mrs. JOHN HEIER, 53 Dilley St., Cumberland, Md.
During girlhood and later during motherhood Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound brought relief to Mrs. Heier. Her case is but one of many we constantly publish recommending our Vegetable Compound. She is willing to answer your letter. Write to her.

Dapper English Tommies Follow Every Move Made By Prince of Wales in Dress

(By the Associated Press)
LONDON, Nov. 17.—The male members of the royal family have for generations set the styles for masculine wear in England, and therefore indirectly for the entire world. This has never been more pronounced than at the present time, and the fashion makers watch with unwearied eye for the least change, or the appearance of a new style, in the royal garments.

It was the Prince of Wales who introduced the small checked bow tie, the colored collars, and the fancy socks so popular a few years ago. Since the Prince first appeared wearing a morning coat, soft shirt, and turned over stiff collar, this has been the standard wear for the man-about-town. The Prince is in the habit of wearing his hat, particularly the silk variety, slightly tilted, and today old men and young men may be seen with head-dresses similarly arranged at any time of the day or night on the fashionable thoroughfares of the West End.

The latest contribution of the Prince to the fashionable world, however, is the dinner suit, or tuxedo, which has generally been avoided by the best dressed men as being too informal for formal occasions, and too formal for informal occasions. Few tuxedos have been worn in London in the past, as compared with their wide use in America and they were rarely used for the theatre.

The Prince appeared in one at a dinner party before his trip to the Far east, and since that time the dinner jacket has made great inroads into the popularity of full dress attire.

This Royal Highness appeared a few weeks ago at a dinner dance attended in a dinner suit of black with a faint white stripe, vest of black silk trimmed with a fine white edge, and a black bow tie, also with a white edge. Now the latest dinner suits shown are of this cloth. The dandies of the West End appear at their favorite haunts dressed in the Prince of Wales' latest.

The coat for winter street wear for the coming season will be of heavy material, huge collar and probably belted, for the Prince appeared in such a coat at a recent gathering in Scotland.

Golf attire is not ignored by the royal family, and the newest outdoor costume is a knickerbocker suit of homespun, wool vest of colors, and checkered cap. The attire worn by the Prince recently played himself Andrews.

It is noted also that the sons of the King follow the lead of their elder brother, and appear in public dressed to the most minute detail after his example.

When the late King Edward was Prince of Wales, he was generally known as the best dressed man in Europe and thousands of men imitated the least change of style which he affected. It was King Edward who brought the grey ascot hat into such wide use, and white spats and the derby hat owe their popularity to him.

So closely was King Edward followed in the matter of dress, it is said, that the style to wear the last button on the vest unbuttoned, so universal in London twenty years ago, started from the fact that once at a house party the King, who was then beginning to take on his corpulent build, unbuttoned the button for the sake of comfort. From that time on, however, and from that time on the last button was only an ornament.

Upsetting 1,000 years of tradition by bobbing her hair, Princess Newena Gayfish, Winnebago, Indian beauty of Hatfield, Wis., has been expelled and exiled from her tribe.

PROGRESSIVE BLOC NOW AGITATED

replies were received. Previous to announcement of the conference call, Senator LaFollette issued a statement declaring that the "time has come for organization of a well defined group in support of accepted progressive principles and policies and the defeat of the administration ship subsidy bill, proposed anti-strike legislation and the projected transfer of federal forces to the interior department."

Capper in Rank

Senator Capper, republican, Kansas, chairman of the farm bloc almost at the same time issued a statement declaring against the ship subsidy bill and outlining a program of legislation including farm credit, prohibition of tax free securities and reduction of freight rates and government control. Both senators LaFollette and Capper said recent elections were a victory for the progressives over the reactionaries but it was not apparent to what extent the plans of the farm bloc might coincide with those of the LaFollette-Huddleston groups.

The call issued by Senator LaFollette and Representative Huddleston with the latter a strong labor champion in the house, announces that it was "for the organization of an active working group in congress."

The general conference on December 2, it was said further, would include "leading progressives not already actively affiliated with the people's executive service," an organization formed two years ago at a dinner of senators, representatives and others.

Third Party Not Mentioned

"It was decided at that time that it was premature to attempt to organize the handful of progressives in the two houses of congress," said the call, "but without organization these members of congress are devoted to the people's interest and have struggled manfully against overwhelming odds and have won many important victories."

They have also blocked many vicious bills and have saved the taxpayers hundreds of millions of dollars and exposed some gigantic evils. But above all they have let the people know what was happening in Washington.

"The people have responded, they have elected a very considerable number of senators and representatives with splendid records of fidelity to the public service. They have done all that could be done at this election to express their willingness that this government shall be genuinely progressive."

"It is apparent therefore that the time is appropriate for a conference to discuss a definite plan for the co-operation of all the progressives in congress."

It is estimated that the earth can support a population of 6,000,000,000, a total which, it is further estimated, will be reached about 2,100 at the present rate of increase.

There are 8 million automobiles in the United States.

AGED STATESMAN OF FRANCE HERE

Wilson Welcomes Him

Clemenceau had scarcely set foot on shore when a telegram from another famous world war figure was handed to him. The message, from Woodrow Wilson, read: "Allow me to bid you welcome to America, where you will find none but friends."

The Tiger who had worked at Versailles with Wilson, for the league of nations, hastened to scribble this reply: "Deeply touched by your kind message. Please accept my kindest regards and wishes. Am looking forward with great pleasure to seeing you in Washington."

These were the day's serious spots. For the rest, it was a day of madcap adventure for the aged statesman and he went to it with a vim that belied his 81 years.

The keen eyes beneath the scraggy brows were sparkling and snapping with excitement when the commission that went down the bay to greet him first caught sight of him, high on the promenade deck of the Paris.

Landing is Picturesque

Clemenceau stood on the bridge of the Paris steaming up New York bay this morning, his face aglow with smiles as he watched the approach of a colorful welcoming fleet. In accepting the first noisy greeting he cocked his picturesque hat and swung it above his head. Then as towering edge of the Manhattan skyline came into view on one side and the statue of Liberty on the other, Clemenceau's interest increased. He was not awed but silenced for the moment by the wonder of progress.

A different scene unfolded for him when he came up the bay on his last visit, more than half a century ago. It was his first view of the statue of Liberty and he was amazed by the change in the skyline.

The war premier of France, who left this country more than half a century ago as a young medical doctor, returned in ripe old age with many years of stormy statesmanship behind him to win for his countrymen the sympathy of America.

Comes as Private Citizen

The Tiger came as a private citizen but to no potentate could have been extended a more stately welcome than was given to him when he stepped from the Paris and landed at the battery.

The Tiger found thousands of people waiting for him. There were cheers when he stepped ashore.

The aged statesman was carrying a red rose in one hand, when he began his motor trip up Broadway. The girls in office buildings leaned from windows and blew kisses to him. The Tiger replied by waving the rose at them.

The welcoming committee on arriving at quarantine aboard the municipal steamer Macomb, and found the Tiger peering at them through a window on the promenade deck. The commission did not board the Paris as quickly as it expected because the Macomb forgot to bring boarding ladders. Soon after municipal craft arrived, and slipped in between the Macomb and the Paris. The commission then stepped aboard while Clemenceau observed their difficulties with the curiosity of a child.

Robert Woods Bliss, assistant secretary of state, welcomed the former premier to America in behalf of President Harding and invited him to visit the president at Washington. Clemenceau accepted, expressing his delight.

Say Boy Scout how would you like to go to Washington, D. C., see all the great sights to be seen there and get all your expenses paid and get a solid gold watch besides? That is what Stanley Newcomb a Boy Scout of San Diego, Calif., got last year for writing the best essay in the Safety Essay contest. Last year twelve Oklahomans in the fifth, sixth seventh, eighth grades, fourteen years of age and under won twelve prizes in this contest. Here is what you have to do this year. Write the best essay of any boy or grade pupil of the above grades in the schools of the U. S. on this subject, "My share in making the Highways Safe." Length of this essay is not to be more than 500 words and it must be handed in to the scout executive not later than Dec. 4th. Each essay must be illustrated by an original drawing appropriate photograph, or clipping from some magazine or newspaper. Essays must be written on one side of the paper only. They may be typewritten or prepared in ink. Each essay must bear the name, school and home address of the pupil in the upper left hand corner of the first page. If you are interested scout, come in and see us at the Chamber of Commerce rooms. We would like to have an Ada scout carry off this honor this year. If you want to go to Washington, D. C. now is the time to get busy. If you didn't win this there are several other very valuable prizes.

How many muscies in a boy's body? Some say 326, some say 500, but anyhow there is not one to keep him quiet, but books sometimes will do it. Books that boys like best are good companions for their minds. Here is a list that will help to keep him quiet for a while. Grit a Plenty, Billy Topp Sail with Dr. Luke of Labrador, Thro College on Nothing a Year, Cattle Ranch to College, For the Honor of the School, The Half Back, Bartley Freshman Pitcher, Baby Elton Quarterback, Along the Mohawk Trail, Boy Scouts of Black Patrol, Under Boy Scout Colors, The Horseman of the Plains, Williams of West Point, The Call of the Wild, The Biography of a Grizzly, The Gaunt Grey Wolf, Adventures in Beaver Stream Camp, Kidnapped, Treasure Island, Hand Book for Boy Scouts, Water Wonder, Natural Wonders, Birds, Animals, Plants Every Boy Should Know.

Boy Scout work at Vanoss promises to do better this year even than it did last and it went exceptionally well there last year under the supervision of Prof. White and Rev. Coffee. This week Mr. William Buck troop committeeman with the help of the other members of the committee raised nearly $20 for prizes to be awarded to scouts. These prizes will be awarded for scholarship, passing the best written examination on the life of Christ to scouts in the 12, 13, 14, 15 year old classes who pass the best physical examination before a group of doctors. Five scouts whose names we failed to get but whom we will get next week decided to enter the cross country run which comes off Dec. 15.

We wish all parents in Ada would read an article in the November issue of the American magazine by Dr. Crane the most widely read man in America on "The Kind of an Education He Would Like to Have Had When He was a Boy." for he would then see that there are some things in it which a boy learns as a scout.

Scouts if you can get a copy of this same issue of The American, be sure to read the fine article there on Ants.

This Christmas ask your parents to subscribe for The Boys Life the fine Boy Scout Magazine, and give it to you for one of your Christmas presents.

The Boy Scouts at Roff were reorganized this week. The Troop Committee consisting of Messrs. Hugo Hughes, Roy McKee and E. G. Merritt selected Prof. L. H. Crowder for Scout Master under his leadership we are confident that it will grow and be a great success.

At Stonewall Thursday evening the Boy Scouts and Camp Fire Girls at that place together with all the churches of Stonewall gave Rev. C. B. Holland and Mrs. Holland and family a fine farewell reception. Mr. Holland has been Scout master at Stonewall for three years and he goes to Bixby, Okla., with the good wishes of all the Boy Scouts of Stonewall.

All of the Red Cross circulars advertising The Annual Roll Call for Pontotoc County were distributed by Scouts this week. Each ward school was represented and the boys did quick and thorough work of it.

Twelve Scouts were given employment this week by Mr. C. A. McClosky. This makes about the fourth time that Mr. McClosky has given work of this kind to the scouts.

Several boys joined the different troops in town this week. We are planning on having three hundred scouts right here in Ada by February. That means much work but we believe that it can be done. Next Tuesday Mr. Vernon Rollow and Carl Spangler will give the people of Vanoss at the school house a radio concert or program. We are planning on getting 50 scouts

NEW SECRETARY OF BUSINESS WOMEN'S CLUBS IS NAMED

Elinor Conrod.

Miss Elinor Conrod, former president of the Chattanooga Business and Professional Women's Club, has just taken up her new duties as executive secretary of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs. She succeeds Lena Madesin Phillips, who has been secretary of the federation since it was founded in 1919.

at Vanoss this winter. Troop No. 5 must have had some very interesting on last night to bet William Laughlin to ride in on his single footing horse.

Last week we said that Mr. Geo. Anderson was the assistant Scout Master to that troop but we find that it is Mr. J. W. Roper. We are expecting great things from this troop this winter. Troop number seven, Willard school ought to get about 15 new boys in that troop. Mr. V. A. Newcomb will give you all the help that you need.

Mayo McKeown's troop No. 3, met Thursday evening of this week. We are expecting 20 new joiners to that troop this winter.

Rev. Widney, who has Troop Ten is meeting them regularly and we know that with this regularity and his ability to make things go that Glenwood will soon have twenty boys in that troop. Mr. H. E. Hamilton, scout master of Troop 9 has been sick about two weeks but he is much better now and will be able to meet his troop soon. Prof. D. T. Bradshaw met this troop last Thursday.

Troop No. 2 under Tom Fullerton and Harry Deering is coming along fine now. They had a good meeting last Friday night.

The big physical examination will take place some time in December. Every Boy Scout in Ada has a chance to win prizes at that contest. Any Scouts, who smoke, will not have any chance in this contest. We are sorry to hear of several scouts smoking. Remember the law, A Scout is clean. Remember also the oath which you took where it says that you promise to do your best to keep yourself, physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight. A Scout who smokes is violating every word of that oath. Get right smokey scout.

Commercial News

One year from the past week will find Ada entertaining approximately twenty-five hundred Baptists. The Oklahoma Baptist General convention, in session the past week at Altus, Okla., voted unanimously to hold their 1923 convention at Ada. This convention will be of great value to our city in both an advertising and financial way. It will bring a number of people here who have never had the opportunity to visit Ada before and the twenty-five hundred people will spend at least $30,000 for meals and lodging while here and probably several thousand dollars more for merchandise and for luxuries.

Monday, November 27th, is set for the primary election of seven new directors in the Chamber of Commerce. Ballots, together with a membership roster, will be sent out to each member the first part of this week. Ballots should be properly filled out and then brought in person, sent by messenger or mailed to the Chamber of Commerce Election committee before 7 P. M. Monday, November 27th. Each member is to vote for seven whose names are on the roster. The four getting the highest number of votes will be entered on the final ballot then the seven getting the highest number of votes in the final election on December 11th will be elected.

Arrangements are being made to print a quarterly statement of the income and disbursements within the Chamber of Commerce. This will let the members know what is being done with the money they put into the Chamber of Commerce and if they do not feel that the money is being spent wisely it might be well to come in and give the secretary their idea on how money should be spent and not unload on the general public such matters as the Chamber of Commerce would be glad to adjust.

Ada has recently been making bids for state conventions but who the "deuce" invited Judge Wright to throw the governor's case to Ada? Surely it was not the inviting appearance of our court house.

The Ada News will appropriate this column to the use of candidates for the Shrine Ring for their announcements or any information leading to their qualifications.

"Doc" Smith's Platform

With new avowed intention of winning the Shrine ring to be offered here November 24, during the Shriner Ceremonial held on that date, "Doc" Smith, of Holdenville, strengthens his platform to conform with the strong principles used by other candidates.

"Doc" Smith's platform to date now stands:

Platform
Mother's for prohibition;
Father's not yet;
I'm undecided—

Blue Laws
Longer nights—shorter days.
Skirts—long or short—don't give a damn!

Tariff
Embargo on numskulls, particularly applicable to my opponents.

I Favor—
1—Abolition of twin beds.
2—Extermination of cockroaches, bugs, or any other breed of Roaches. I am opposed to butchers handling chickens after working hours.

"Who said the mid-night howl of a tom cat was the sign He's in agony."

To win the ring,
"Doc" Smith.

To the Ada Evening News:
I have had my attention called to some articles that is appearing in the papers, that I am in danger of annihilation to gather with many of my allied friends viz, Cock Roaches, Green Flies, Ants, Boll Weevils and Cooties. Now I am a full grown He Cock Roaches, have stripped for action in the defense of myself and all of my allies, as above mentioned.

The report is that one Country Butcher has gone to a village black smith to get his beheading knife sharpened but they found very friendly spirits had met and they, in the name of a very distinguished politician formed a coalition interest they together have started out on the war path of extermination of Cock Roaches, Green Flies, et al. there are the master Bug and General Isam, of all insects, invite these would-be warriors and knights of the wild cat stills which it seems they are willing to risk the reputation of their mother-in-laws defend to proceed with their onslaught of extermination.

And when the battle is over they will discover they have only been making Cock Roaches of all his allied friends, that there will be one big He Cock Roach walking away with the Shrine ring. Then they will ask for an armistice, go home and ask for a bonus.

Yours for the 24th,
H. B. Roach.

Exquisite Star to Appear in Role at American Theatre

Few stars of the screen possess that priceless gift of whimsical appeal so abundantly as exquisite Jane Novak. And it is this element of personal appeal that chisels its way into the hearts of her admirers—that has endeared her to hundreds of thousands of theatregoers throughout the country.

Never in her career has this quality in her work been so apparent as in her interpretation of the role of a young society girl in her latest photodrama "The Snowshoe Trail," to be seen at the American Theatre, on Monday.

The story of "The Snowshoe Trail" is based on Edison Marshall's novel woven around the experiences of a society girl who ventured into the vast silences of the snow-clad North in search of her missing fiancé. Her experiences were sufficiently thrilling to make a story of tense dramatic interest, the big scenes including a struggle in an ice-jammed river during a blizzard and a fight between a bear and a woods-man that is calculated to keep your hair on end for several minutes.

Negro is Arrested Here for Forgery; Admits Allegation

Eddie Johnson, negro, taken into custody yesterday afternoon by city police on a charge of forging a check, was sent to the county officers today, when evidence was collected which warranted the action, according to the police.

He was charged with forging a check for $20 on Earle West of Hazel, Okla., at a local bank. Johnson, claiming he was West, wired the Hazel bank to forward him the $20. He was recognized here by a local concern which had been under the impression that Johnson's name was West, and the local bank accepted the recognition.

Johnson received the money here and was using it when arrested. He was apprehended when West entered the bank at Hazel and was recognized by friends. They had been under the impression that he was in Ada and at once, suspicious that forgery had been committed, authorities here were notified and investigation disclosed Johnson's guilt, according to police. He admitted that he forged the check, police said today.

High School Gridsters Lose at Pauls Valley; Tigers Draw

ADA TEAM LOSES IN FRIDAY GAME

Pauls Valley Upsets All the Dope by Beating Ada
Gridsters.

PAULS VALLEY, Okla., Nov. 18. —(Special)—Pauls Valley high school put the skids under the strong eleven from Ada here Friday afternoon and pushed them through mud and water to win 6 to 3. Scoring on both sides was results of luck, with the locals getting the big end.

Ada high school fought desperately through the entire game and continually threatened to score. In the fourth quarter Potts of Ada smashed the line for one and one-half yards of the necessary two yards on the fourth down and Ada lost her chance to win the game by 18 inches.

Early in the game Ada received and started down the field. All plays were worked with perfection except one blanket pass and three line smashing formations. After making first downs through mud four inches deep, the visitors sent Hargis around right end for 12 yards. He was tackled and due to the muddy condition of the field and a slippery ball, fumbled. The fumble was recovered by a Pauls Valley half back, who raced down the dry side of the field for a touch down. Potts and Smith tackled him just before he reached the goal line, but could not stay the runner.

In the third period Baker surprised the football fans of this city when he drop-kicked a field goal from the 35-yard line in four inch mud. He took plenty of time. It was one of the most remarkable plays ever seen at Pauls Valley.

Coach Cox's men were not all equipped with mud cleats and they did not have a change of jerseys between halves. The locals entered the game with high mud cleats and changed jerseys between halves. They were in much better condition than the invading eleven.

Ada was not daunted by this handicap, however, and worked well during the last half, keeping Pauls Valley in a dangerous territory almost continuously. The mud lost the game to Ada, the visitors being unable to work any of their fast plays, which have carried them to victory in former games.

Carr of the visitors was the most consistent ground gainer, while Potts made several long runs in the last half. Ada made 14 first downs and Pauls Valley made 3.

JUDGE LINDSEY PLEASED WITH ELECTION RESULTS

Colorado Springs, Colo., Nov. 11. To the Editor of the Ada News, the best county paper in Oklahoma:

Four years ago today was the most noted day, and should be celebrated by America as much as the Fourth of July. Yet, our city is so greedy after this world's goods that with the exception of a very few, they refused to close their doors.

We are sure having a regular Rocky mountain Pike's Peak snowstorm this morning. We had the worst snowstorm and blizzard last Saturday and Sunday that has been in this state for this time of the year in 20 years.

I see in our morning paper that Oklahoma has gone democratic by the largest majority she ever has. Hurrah for the women! They will help keep things dry and clean for democracy. We Oklahoma, Arkansas and Tennessee democrats and the dissatisfied republicans sure elected our Demo governor and if you will send us a few more Oklahoma democrats we will sure clean the republicans and then we will separate our white children from negro kinky heads in our free schools which now force our white teachers to teach the negro kids.

Colorado is a wonderful state to live in and Colorado Springs is my choice of any place I have seen in the state. Its melted snow water every day in the year its Rocky mountain and Pike's Peak breeze make it a wonderful health resort for throat and lung trouble that can't be beat. There are numbers of people here from almost every state in the Union that came here for their health and today are hale and hearty and don't look like they were sick in their lives. We never have any hot weather here, and the nights are cool. And sleep, my, my! This is the place to live. You can get almost any kind of fruit or vegetables any day in the year. If it does not grow here we get it from Florida, Texas, Washington, Oregon or Oklahoma. The farmers get $18 to $21 per ton for alfalfa hay, corn $1.00 per bush-

YALE AND PRINCETON SET FOR FORTY-SIXTH BATTLE

Princeton's victories over Chicago and Harvard made the Tigers the favorites over the Bulldogs in their coming annual battle at Princeton, N. J., Saturday. But Yale's fighting spirit cannot be computed, so the view of critics means little. The teams have met forty-five times and Yale has won twenty-four games against twelve for Princeton. Nine times the game has ended a tie. Yale is depending upon its line to halt the Princeton offensive. Cross and Cruikshank are the stars of this forward wall. Coach Rover is depending upon the versatile attack of his backfield.

NORMAN, Okla., Nov. 18. —Meeting little opposition in keeping the play under Oklahoma's goal, for three quarters, Texas ran up a total of 32 points to Oklahoma's 7 on a muddy field here today. Four touchdowns, a field goal and a safety accounted for the Longhorns' scores.

Taking the lead with a touchdown in the first period, Oklahoma fell in the second quarter before the rush of the Texans and was never again dangerous.

Robertson was the star of the game. His passes to Ward scored two of the Texans' touchdowns and the other two came when he was carrying the ball. The big half back also sent a place kick over Oklahoma's goal in the second period.

Oklahoma's touchdown was scored after a 41-yard run by Hammert.

Coach Casts Eyes On Yearlings for Next Year's Team

Men who will add new life to Ada high school's football team next season were playing this week last at the Konawa high school. It was the second game for the scrubs here, and their second victory. Thursday's score was 45 to 0.

Although most of the men were playing their first football, several of them are showing up well. Coach Cox is already laying plans whereby he will be able to fill in gaps in the team next season which will be caused by players graduating this year.

Potts, Carr, Smith, Wright, Morris, Rayburn, Molloy, King and Gregg will be lost by graduation this year. Cox will have Deavers, Nettles, Willoughby, Hargis and Baker around which to build his 1923 squad.

Men who played in the game against Konawa are: Simpson and Burkhardt at ends, Whitwell and Williams at tackles, Jackson and Saddle at guards, Rayburn at center, Sneed at quarter, Anderson and Pace at half backs and Staleup at fullback. Harrell, Smith, Whitaker and Wilmoth.

DES MOINES CLUB MANAGER HOPEFUL

Recruiting of New Men
Expected to Bring the Team's Rating Up.

(By the Associated Press)

DES MOINES, Ia., Nov. 17.—Manager Jack Graney of the Des Moines Western league baseball club is anticipating a good season here next year.

The club, finished last in the 1922 race, but acquired several players who should be excellent major league prospects within a season or so. Among them is Walter Genin, a center fielder who threw out more men at the plate than any other fielder in the league. He is a 300 batter and a sterling base runner.

George Cooper, a right handed pitcher, is another good prospect. He was purchased from Portland, Ore., in the middle of the season. He proved to be such a good hitter that he rarely worked on the mound, always giving a good account of himself, however. He hit for a .370 average.

Jack Banner and Mike Wilson are the two catchers on the team and are both comers. Banner is expected to be at the height of his playing in the next five years.

Floyd Chesbro, a left handed first baseman from the Dakota state league, is another find picked by the Boosters. Petay Turgeon at shortstop is one of the hardest hitters for a small player that the Western League has ever seen.

The Boosters have Don Grant and Art Wagner, for third base prospects, although Wagner belongs to Cleveland. Grant played at Evansville last year.

Otto Merz, "Lefty" Eddleman, Cooper, are the three main stays in the box to come back. The Boosters have an optional agreement for the services of Middleton from Cleveland. He is a capable south-paw.

Des Moines will train at Ponca City, Oklahoma, next spring.

Monday from the Baptists assembly at Altus.

Reverend Morris took an active part in the assembly as is seen in the fact that he succeeded in bringing the next convention to Ada.

JAPANESE PERFECT MEANS TRANSPORTING LIVE FISH

(By the Associated Press)

TOKIO.—A method of transporting live fish long distances has been discovered by Dr. Chiyomatsu Ishikawa, professor of the Tokio Imperial University, by infusing a quantity of oxygen in the water of boxes doubly lined with zinc in order to prevent leakage. The method proved successful and will be again tried with "ayu" a kind of trout which hitherto has been believed impossible to transport alive. It is very important for the Japanese people to obtain fresh fish, one of the national dishes being raw fish.

Slipping, sliding, fumbling and plunging in mud ankle deep, part of the time playing in water, Carver College Eagles of Oklahoma City and East Central Tigers Friday afternoon battled to a draw on college field, neither team scoring.

Ada had three chances to score, but each time the necessary punch was lacking. First downs were seldom made and penalties were frequent. Handling of the ball was bad and both sides were forced to Ada gained most of her advantages on punts.

Early in the game, following the kick-off of the Eagles, Ada launched an offensive. Line playing was most effective as the slippery field made end runs and open field work difficult. On a return punt, Ada put the ball on the Eagle 15 yard line. Kelley went around for first down, but a fumble lost Ada's advantage to score. The first quarter ended with the ball on Eagle's 27 yard line.

With the ball in their possession at the beginning of the second quarter, Tigers again started advancing on the Eagle goal. But with the ball on the 10 yard line, a pass was intercepted and carried 15 yards. Eagles then punted to the 50 yard line and it was returned 12 yards by Cunningham. The remainder of the half was played in the center of the field, Ada keeping the Eagles out of her territory by punting. A desperate aerial attack was launched by the Eagles but again the mud was too much. This half ended with the Eagles showing renewed efforts to stay off threatened touchdown by the Tigers. Luck was with the invading team for Ada was penalized 30 yards from the Eagle 10 yard line.

In the third quarter it was a repetition of the weak line bucks and punt affair. Each side, after trying one or two line bucks without success, would punt. Eagles made few gains, but the Tigers often got away with gains to make first downs. The fourth quarter saw Ada again within scoring distance, but fumbles, losses and penalties prevented the making of the necessary yards. Kelley attempted a field goal in the second period and missed by two feet.

In the fourth quarter Coach Thompson substituted frequently but without success. One of the smallest crowds to witness a game this year was out and interest in the game was reduced considerably by the weather conditions. Following a rain which had continued for several hours, the players entered the field half covered with water and battled for four quarters of 15 minutes each.

Auction Bridge Party For Shrine Ladies

In arranging for the entertainment of the visiting Shrine ladies the local Shriners planned for a bridge party Friday afternoon, Nov. 24, at the Elks Club rooms over the McSwain theatre which have been loaned for the occasion. Mrs. Chas. A. Zorn, the general chairman of the affairs for the ladies named Mrs. M. F. Manville, A. W. Parker, T. B. Blake, C. V. Gowing and M. C. Taylor for the bridge party committee.

It will be the endeavor of the committee to furnish a pleasant afternoon socially as well as a good game and no effort will be spared to that end. Twenty tables will play each one supplied with the rules that will govern the play of the day. Progressive Auction will be played and, that being the game of the hour, it is thought no happier plan could have been arranged for the hostess of the same. Mrs. M. F. Manville, chairman of the entertainment committee.

Good Program Given by Forum Literary Society

A meeting of the Forum Literary Society of the Teachers College was held Thursday evening at 7:30 p. m. at the college building at which one of the best programs yet rendered by the personnel of the club was enjoyed by those who attended.

Included on the program were numbers by the male quartette, wit, Ben Weaver, Earl Armstrong, Hardy Featherston and Edgar Harris singing. The debate of the evening was Resolved: That the universal compulsory military training should be adopted in the United States.

On the affirmative Miss Opal Deen and Ben Hatcher furnished the arguments and they were opposed by Miss Blanche McMin and Edmon Low. The debate was interesting and those delivering speeches were well received.

Other important features of the program included a piano solo by Miss Opal Bennett, an extemporaneous talk on "Natural Products of Oklahoma," by Edgar Harris, Extemporaneous talk on "Radio Communication" by Miss Jesse Suberland, an original story by Miss Elizabeth Hyden, vocal solo by Miss Cordie Burris, jokes by T. K. Treadwell, ten minutes parliamentary drill by Dale Boren.

New members received into the society were Messrs. Porterfield, Charles Canning, Arthur Johnson, Harden Sules, Miss Leta Turman and Mrs. J. E. Wales. Prof. John Zimmerman made his critics report, which was received with appreciation by the society.

Owing to the inclement weather which prevailed during the early part of the evening, there was about ten members of the society who were not present. The attendance was above the thirty mark, however.

The society was recently organized and reports increasing interest. Officers are boosting for new members and to improve the programs. "We want to have programs so interesting that all our members will not miss a meeting unless it is absolutely necessary," one of the officers remarked today, in reporting the meeting.

Ada Pioneers Relates Bit of Club History

In the year 1900, a short time before the Frisco railroad was completed through the Chickasaw Nation, a company of men came overland from Pauls Valley, Indian Territory, bought a tract of land, then covered with corn and cotton, surveyed and platted the present city of Ada, which was soon after declared by the Federal government, a U. S. townsite.

In the fall of 1900 twenty-five progressive women of the not-a-year-old city, organized The Twentieth Century Club, one of first women's clubs of the Chickasaw Nation. Mrs. Tom Hope, who was afterwards president of the Oklahoma State Federation of Women's Clubs, was president and leading spirit of this club for nearly 14 years. The Twentieth Century Club studied current events and with other clubs and organizations, took active part in the civic improvements of Ada.

In 1901 a group of women, lovers of literature, organized a Shakespeare Club, which they named Sorosis.

These women, for more than ten years, devoted their alternate Friday afternoon meetings exclusively to the study of Shakespearean drama, taking one play each year under the able leadership of Mrs. Louise Richardson Hodges, one of the most cultured women of the Southwest. Her interest in Shakespeare's works and her favorite club, Sorosis of Ada, never flagged; and on one of her frequent visits to St. Louis, she bought a beautiful white marble bust of Shakespeare which she presented to Sorosis with the understanding that the club arrange a Shakespearean program and formally present the bust to the East Central State Normal, as it was then called.

Before the arrangements were completed, Mrs. Hodges found it necessary, on account of her health, to leave Ada. She left the bust in the keeping of one of the members to be cared for until the ladies could complete their program and other presentation plans.

The club found it impossible to complete their program and plans during that club year, and before the next club year began, the great World War was upon us and our literary clubs disbanded to give their time to Red Cross work and other activities demanded of women by the needs of our men.

One cause and another delayed the reorganization of Sorosis until last Tuesday, November 13, all former members of the club living in Ada, were invited to meet at the home of Mrs. Cora McKeel. Eight ladies responded to the call and proceeded to reorganize the club.

Following are the minutes of the meeting.

The meeting was called to order by the hostess, Mrs. Cora McKeel, who asked Mrs. C. O. Barton to act as temporary chairman, and Mrs. L. P. Sanbach, secretary.

were read by Mrs. Byron Norrell. Next in order was the election of officers, which resulted as follows:

President, Mrs. C. O. Barton; Vice-President, Mrs. Cora McKeel; Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. L. P. Sanbach; Press Reporter, Mrs. Byron Norrell.

After some discussion it was decided to study Shakespeare's first historical play, King John, and to meet on the evening of the second and fourth Tuesday of each month.

The club adjourned to meet November 28 with Mrs. Byron Norrell at her home on Twelfth street.

Ladies Complete Arrangements To Entertain Shrine Visitors

The final touches are being put on the arrangements for the entertainment of the Shriners who will be the guests of the city Friday.

There has been some misunderstanding in regard to the kind and color of the fezzes that the ladies are to wear on this occasion. The wife, mother, sister and sweetheart of any Shriner is eligible to wear the white fez only. The management hopes that every lady who is eligible will wear her fez November 24 and will be on hand with a smile, yes, miles of smiles, to welcome the visiting Shriners from the Bedouin and India temples.

Following is the list of committees deputed to have charge of the entertainment of women visitors during the ceremonial:

Shakespeare's Education.
(By Mrs. C. M. Barton)

The Elizabethan period in which Shakespeare was born was one of the most brilliant and progressive epochs in the history of civilization.

During her reign more great men were living at the same time than in any one hundred years before or since.

When Henry VIII was king of England, tho' somewhat of a despot himself, he freed England from the despotism of the Pope and gave the people a chance to read the Bible for themselves.

Printing had been invented only a few years and the books printed were eagerly read.

Henry established the Church of England and put to death many Catholics. His despotism and changing moods, developed conservatism and thoughtfulness in his people.

After Henry's death, his daughter Mary, a devout Catholic endeavored to re-establish the power of the Pope, and put to death twice as many Protestants as her father had Catholics. After these two stormy and bloody reigns the wise Elizabeth came to the throne of England.

Peace and harmony prevailed, industries grew, art, literature, music and all the fine arts were fostered, and the drama came into flower.

Shakespeare was born with a great mind. In the portraits handed down to us, you will note his wonderful patience, and almost God-like comprehension of his world and the universal plan of creation.

Note his sadness, almost melancholy. You see his power of concentration and serenity which enabled him to go on with his thoughts and writings amid the noise and bustle of the great city, amid the stir and confusion of a busy theatre.

Ada Woman is New State Sponsor for Oklahoma U. D. C.

Mrs. Minnie Chisler-Clark, of Ada, will be Oklahoma's new sponsor for the United Confederate Veterans, it became known here recently.

Mrs. Clark, who has long been active in state circles of the U. D. C., was appointed to this important office by William Taylor, of Altus, division commander.

Oklahoma's new sponsor, will represent the Okla. division at next year's convention to be held at New Orleans.

Mrs. Clark is the daughter of the late C. W. Chisler, who was a member of Company D, 12th Arkansas Infantry. He was a member of the William L. Byrd camp here.

Mr. Chisler was also a member of the Masonic lodge of this place. Oklahoma's new sponsor has been a resident of Ada for many years and during that time has been prominent in civic and social circles. She is a member of the Ada chapter, Eastern Star.

The next general assembly of the U. D. C. will be held here.

built of airy nothing, have a local habitation and a name."

Now the question is "How did Shakespeare learn so much?"

"What meat did this our Caesar feed upon that he hath grown so great?"

These questions have puzzled scholars and learned professors for the past three hundred years.

For Shakespeare was born, reared and schooled in the small village of Stratford-on-the-Avon, England. There with others he went, for six or seven years—"the whining schoolboy, with his satchel and shining morning face, creeping like snail unwillingly to school."

He left school at fourteen and was married at nineteen to Ann Hathaway, aged twenty-seven, his first love, and he was very much in love, as is characteristic of youths in their teens. This was not a happy marriage, but we are not discussing matrimony.

I will remark in passing that Shakespeare portrays all phases of love and all kinds of love, but many times in his writings he calls "love a madness" particularly in "Midsummer-Night's Dream," he declares,

"The lunatic the lover and the poet
Are of imagination all compact."

To go back to his education, I have, by studying, reading and carefully analysing Shakespeare's writings been able to trace out how he acquired his education.

He was an out-of-door boy and a very close observer; a very careful listener; all his senses were alive and alert. And his many-celled brain recorded and held all impressions and experiences that came to him.

He learned the name, habits and uses of every tree, shrub, vine, plant and flower that grew in land; he loved their beauty and "the sweet perfume of flowers."

He learned the Language of Flowers, their emblematic uses and significance.

He studied the habits of animals, birds and even insects. Every living creature in England, wild or tame, is mentioned in his writings.

He was a lover of gardens, fields and woods; he learned of grafting, pruning, fertilizing, draining; and as he watched the gardeners working his mind recorded their conversations, later, in one of his plays, one gardener says to the other:

"O, what a pity it is
That he (the King) hath not so trimmed and dressed
His land as we this garden."

(his country)

Shakespeare learned all the folklore, old customs and usages, and handed down to future generations these old tales, fancies and fairy lore. Thus one can follow his wanderings by the hunts he describes; his mingling with all classes and kinds of men and women by the conversations later introduced in the various plays.

The reason his works are ever so fresh and instructive he got his impressions and experiences at first hand, from Nature herself. He learned the qualities of men by studying men. He had booklearning in his early youth but not so much book-stuffing that his brain had no time or room for original conceptions.

Shakespeare had the advantage of modern boys and girls in this that he must needs walk along the lovely country lanes, over fields and woods; possibly he rode horseback, tho' there is no record of his entering London like Dartagnan, on a yellow horse. He may have arrived in a stage coach.

He evidently read every book within his reach sooner or later, for he knew his Bible letter perfect and makes more than one hundred references to and quotations from Holy Writ.

He read the doctor's and apothecary's libraries for his references to medicines, drugs and medical practices are worthy of an educated doctor of this century. His doctors and apothecaries are true to life.

He frequented court rooms and read the attorney's library. A recent book of "Shakespeare in Law and About Law Terms" has six hundred pages and is used as a hand book by progressive lawyers.

He must have read books on astronomy and astrology for his works are full of references to astrology, and he knows the laws that govern the sun, moon and stars; he refers to the law of gravitation one hundred years before Sir Isaac Newton "saw the apple fall."

He was an early riser and loved to "see the dawn," "the sun mounting yonder hill," to "Behold the morn in russet mantle clad."

He learned all the evil and wickedness of the world for in his tragedies and histories are portrayed all the evil doing of past ages.

He learned of the Seven Deadly Sins and teaches their fatal effect in the various tragedies. Do you know which one of the seven sins was the immediate cause of Shakespeare's death?

Of how many of these sins you are guilty?

What he knew about music, dancing and social usages has been the guide and inspiration of music lovers and composers for generations.

Artists have become famous portraying scenes suggested by him. Pages could be filled cataloging subjects with which he was familiar of which he learned by using the faculties we each have.

Truly he found
"Sermons in stones
Books in running brooks and God in everything."

Next week we will follow Shakespeare to London where he went to seek his fortune.

"WORSE THAN PAIN"

Louisiana Lady Says She Has "Never Found Anything Better Than Cardui for a Run-Down Condition."

Morgan City, La.—"It would be hard for me to tell how much benefit I have derived from the use of Cardui," said Mrs. I. G. Bowman, of 1319 Front Street, this city.

"I was so run-down in health I could hardly go. I was thin, I had no appetite. Could not rest or sleep well. I was so weak, and so very nervous, I was no pleasure to myself.

"I suffered some pain, but the worst of my trouble was from being so weak and easy to get tired and out of heart.

"This nervous condition was worse than pain.

"Some one told me of Cardui, and I decided to use it.

"After using a few bottles, I regained my strength. I wasn't so nervous, and began to eat and sleep, and grew stronger and was soon well.

The "Ace" of Correspondents

Will Irwin

The man whose vivid stories and descriptions of the battles of the World war changed the war-time policies of two nations and gained for himself the commendation of the immortal War Premier of England, Lloyd George.

Will Irwin was one of the first correspondents in Europe after the storm of 1914 broke upon the peace of world. He, with Irvin S. Cobb and John T. McCutcheon were held by German authorities and liberated only after considerable diplomatic correspondence.

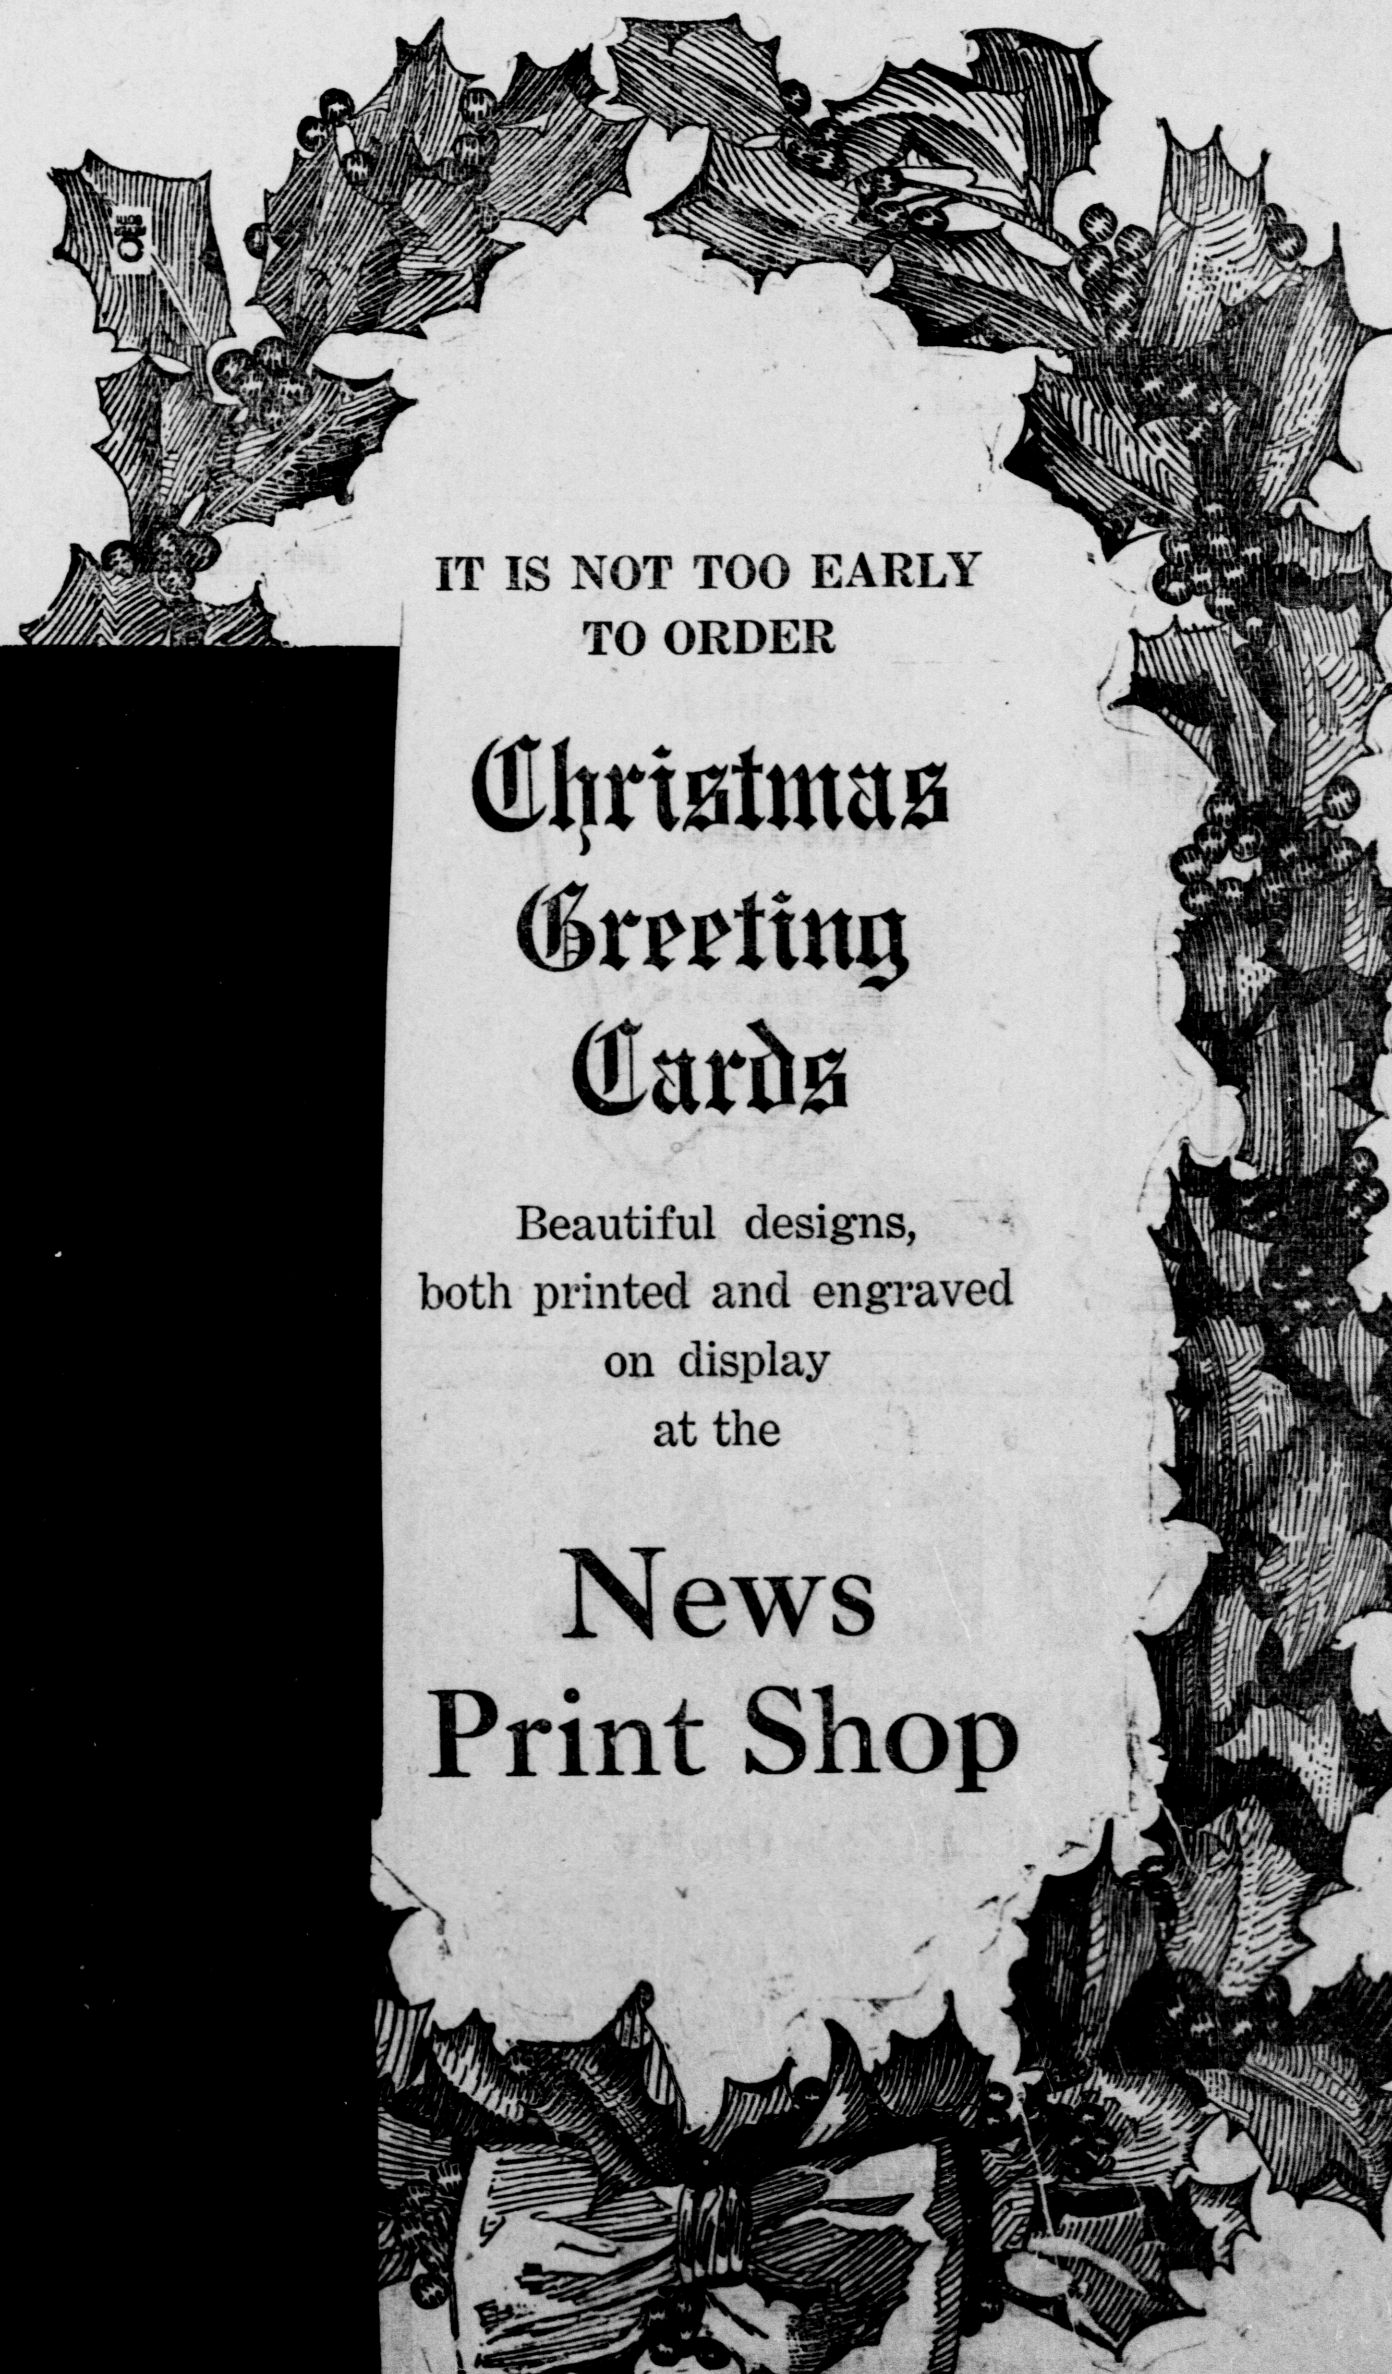

In his lecture, "THE NEXT WAR", he brings a message that reaches far beyond the realm of mere prophecy. The facts he presents are gleaned from the hard school of personal experience and observation.

He is the biggest man that has been brought to Ada on the lecture platform this year. Presented jointly by the Teachers College and the American Legion.

AUTO DEALERS IN CITY PROSPEROUS

Sales of Accessories and Cars Good During Week; New Concerns Open.

Dealers over the city in tire tubes and accessories report a continued good business. Car sales have maintained the average level and dealing in second hand cars is increasing, according to some reports. Gas and oils are still selling at the average rate. A reduction in the price as gas was announced, some stations going from 22 cents to 18 cents.

W. E. Harvey, Ford agent, on East Main street, is offering prizes to boys who secure subscriptions to the Dearborn Independent, Henry Ford's magazine. A bicycle will be given to the boy winning first place.

Kincaid-Buick company, located at 118 South Townsend, are enjoying a good business in Buick parts and service. Tires and tube sales are good, according to the report. New models of the Buick car are being proudly exhibited by the agents here.

Rollow Filling Station is offering special prices to customers on certain lines of its wares, including tires and tubes. The management wishes to express the opinion that absolute satisfaction is always given to car owners who do business at this station.

Grant Irwin still wishes to remind his friends that he is now in the garage business at a new stand on East Main street. He has given up the Buick agency and is dealing in garage work only. Kit Carson, veteran battery man of Ada, is also located with Mr. Irwin. The new business is increasing rapidly, it was said, and it will be only a matter of time until the new garage will be very popular in the city, according to belief of the management.

Thomas Motor Company on West Twelfth street turns in reports of a good business in battery service, tire and tubes sales, garage work and gasoline and oil service. The motto of the concern is to give satisfaction, according to Tom A. Thomas, manager.

Fred Ford's garage on North Broadway is preparing for the Shriners Ceremonial here next Friday. Shriners who come to the city overland will receive a double welcome at this place, as Mr. Ford is not only a veteran garage man here, but is a prominent Shriner of this city.

Miss Carmel Hallmeyer is head of the legal department of the Burley Tobacco Growers' association.

Gasoline War in Oklahoma City to Drive Price Down

OKLAHOMA CITY—A Gasoline war in Oklahoma City is threatening to drive the price to a record low for several years, officials of both independent and corporation companies in Oklahoma admitted Friday.

Post Price of 18 Cents
The admission was made as Marland posted a price of 18 cents for Oklahoma City, the second drop of one cent to be posted in two weeks and eight cents below the high mark of last summer.

That other companies selling gas in Oklahoma City will follow in the reduction this week was predicted.

Individual filling station owners are declared to be selling at actual cost without any allowance for overhead.

Magnolia-Marland Battle
Magnolia and Marland are the biggest filling station operators in Oklahoma City.

The gas war is local, the price of 18 cents not being posted by Marland in other cities of the state.

That the gas was principally between Marland and Magnolia with these two large companies "squeezing" the price down on other smaller operators, was indicated.

TIRE INDUSTRY IN BETTER RATING

"Despite calamity howlers and others who exaggerated conditions in the automobile tire industry, the production of pneumatic tire casings for 1921 total 81,821,041, according to statistics supplied by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, of the Rubber Association of America," says the Square Deal Filling Station, local Federal Tire dealer.

"To appreciate the change in conditions, one has only to consider the December production of 1,840,000 tires, in comparison with the production of earlier months of the year.

"And what is even more important the tire industry as a whole has been cleaning house and preparing to meet the new conditions of the readjustment.

"The outlook for the tire industry is very encouraging. I believe there is a market for every good automobile tire made in America, and I do not believe that the dealer who handles the high-grade products, such as Federal, need worry about a market for his product."

Mr. Hill states that other musicians of the city who would like to take part in these concerts can do so by getting in touch with him at the high school, particularly those who have at one time been members of the band and have graduated from the school.

The American Oil and Refining Co. is also drilling on this same farm. This acreage is located in the gas field just north of the city.
